Success of the Altar Guild Fair—Will We Have an Inauguration Ball?

A Gathering of Ladies and Lasses—The Cotton Club's First Dance—Personal and General.

The social fair in aid of the Altar Guild held at Mrs. Joe Davis' house, on Ewing street, last Thursday afternoon and evening, was a financial success in every way. Everything was done artistically and well, the articles put up for sale were pretty, and the young ladies even more attractive than the goods they offered for sale, the result being that everything was disposed of, and not a few of my friends are the happy possessors of articles which they wore when their mothers dressed them and put them to bed. Miss Ramsey and Miss Herschfeld had charge of the art table, Mrs. Judge Blake sold stationery with marvelous success, the Misses Carpenter and Bothwell disposed of fancy work, Mrs. Wilson sold a variety of baby ware and useful articles, Mrs. Bradford presided over the dining room, and with the aid of Mrs. Devine, Miss Briscoe, Miss Greenleaf and Miss Phillips saw that no one possessing a dollar or a conscience went away hungry. The art gallery was in charge of Miss Chummauer, who was ably assisted by Mr. Palmer.

On Friday night a meeting was held at the Hotel Broadwater to discuss the practicability of giving a grand inaugural ball in some other way celebrating the event, but owing to a general misunderstanding with regard to the time appointed the meeting was postponed until last night, but again it failed to materialize. The prevailing idea seems to favor a reception and ball. Rather than spoil the broth which is the result if two many cooks have a hand in it, it would be better to select a committee by popular vote, if necessary, and then let these gentlemen decide upon the best method for celebrating the event.

The secretary of the Cotton Club announces that the club will give its first party at the Hotel Broadwater Wednesday evening, the 29th inst. Members who have not paid their dues will please remit the same at once to Mr. George H. Hill, treasurer.

On Wednesday evening prior to his departure east a dinner was given to Mr. R. T. Haynes, the general manager of the Drum Lumber mine, by Mr. Spruille Braden at the Hotel Broadwater. The invited guests were Mr. T. A. Bennett, who has lately returned from South America, Major Maguire, Judge Cullen and H. Bratton, who was formerly superintendent of the mine. The dinner was served in the Blue room, which is now the private dining room for small parties, and Mr. Haynes, who is going east to bring his wife home again, was wished a safe journey and quick return.

The Montana club are considering the advisability of buying a lot and erecting a club house of their own. This is a laudable move in the right direction, for the present quarters, while comfortable, are hardly commodious enough to meet the possible requirements of a growing city like Helena, while the addition of a club restaurant, which has been a long felt necessity, can be very much easier managed in a new building than where the club is at present located.

Broadwater's hotel this winter with its skating pond, toboggan slide and bowling alley will doubtless keep up the reputation it has made during the summer, and attract numerous select parties bent upon killing time.

Already a New Year's celebration is being talked about to take the form of a ball on New Year's eve, and Hotel Broadwater will probably be selected. Dancing the old year out and the new year in would be a cheerful way of welcoming 1890, and a german might be arranged with a suitable figure which could be started so as to appropriately herald the event.

On Friday evening last Miss Josie Israel entertained a number of her schoolmates at her home. Dancing and games were indulged in and refreshments served. At a late hour the company departed, all highly delighted with the pleasant evening they had spent. Among those present were Misses May Outburt, Lillie McLeod, Jennie Lorne, Jane Hertz, Edith Smith, Annie Keimig, Emma Smith, Clara Brown, Clara Beall, Ida Silverman, Sophie Hoag, Evelyn Gebauer, Mamie Pope, Carrie Feltner, Yetta Feltner, Katherine Sligh, Carrie Sligh, Gertrude Kieferath, Ada Schlessinger, Amy Cohn, Josie Harris, Birdie Wilson, Daisy Gingsy, Grace Martin, Mary Rinda, Annie Gardner, Inogene Howell, Maudie, Howard Hayes, Ben Loeb, Albert Loeb, T. Caven, Bonnie Tonn, Bennie Greenhood, Harry Harris, Sol Harris, Fred Yeager, Chas. Yeager, Fred Amberg, Elverson Gelsner, Gilbert Smith, Gillman Bullard, Leon Boyer, Morris Boyer, Theo. Rinda, Harvey English, Ed. Grunrod, Toby Hedges, and Fritz, Lewis Cohn.

Personal and General.

Mr. W. K. Flowerree is in town again from his ranch.

Miss Marlow is at present a guest of Mrs. Broadwater, at the Hotel Broadwater.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hunt will probably not be able to move into their new house before Jan. 1, 1890.

Mr. Harvey Barbour returns from Butte to-morrow, where he has been spending the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Paulsen expect to occupy their new home in the west end about the middle of next week.

Mrs. J. B. Wells is expecting a visit from her younger sister, Miss Minnie Sadler, during the winter months.

Mr. W. Velle leaves Helena for the east in the early part of the coming week; his stay will not be a protracted one, however.

Mrs. A. A. Smith, mother of F. N. Smith, has returned from a trip east and will spend the winter with him at 30 Benton avenue, north.

Mrs. T. S. Hamilton will leave for New York on Wednesday via the Northern Pacific route, to be absent all winter on a visit to her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Child returned to their home in Great Falls from the east on Friday. The trip was a very beneficial one to Mrs. Child.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Clayberg leave Helena for California during the early part of the coming week. Mr. Clayberg's trip is being made chiefly on account of his health.

Mr. George B. Child and R. A. Luke expect to leave for California in a few days. Mr. Child thinks the sunny climate of California will enable him to balance his cash better when he returns.

wants to know how it is Helena is so dull socially. There are many reasons, among which may be cited the natural reaction after a gay summer, or a lull before the storm of gaieties in store. "Petrovitch" also wants to know what look the following lines are taken from: "It is hard to beat all the harness and curb of rank and have none of its gilded oats to eat."—Quaida.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

A Few Hints to the Tuxary in the Giddy-ocracy of Washington.

In view of the fact that etiquette is the machinery by means of which society is made harmonious and the relations between persons of congenial tastes and pursuits are established and maintained [See Keim, page 128, 41] THE INDEPENDENT proposes to give its readers and others a few drops of grease to lubricate with and make the Washington machine run smoothly.

Calls are the most numerous events during the season. They are clearly defined as morning and evening calls. Morning calls are made in the morning and evening calls are made in the evening. This looks simple enough, but it isn't. Make a call any time before noon and see if it is. The evening call is safer. These calls do not include telephone calls and calls at poker. These latter are of a business character exclusively.

High-priced calls are made in carriages, middling calls are made in street cars and plain, untrammelled calls are made on foot.

Calls should be returned as soon as possible. If they are not returned, the caller will be forced to get new ones, and coldness may spring up.

Every lady has her Fido, which has also been remarked of Fido, though "dog days" come later in the year.

Never look at the time when calling. When the caller is late up and go. In the matter of cards, never use a cold deck or a lady, unless she is an intimate friend, for strangers do not admire too great familiarity. On entering society, come in at the front door; unless you know the cook very well. We have heard of a man who tore the entire tail off of a $50 coat on the nails in the back fence. In using cards never trump your partner's ace, that is to say, don't leave a card where your wife has left hers. One's a plenty. Learn only is wealth.

An introduction is a first step to an acquaintance in good society. But never present one person to another until you know the present will be acceptable. This prevents inquisitive people looking a gift horse in the mouth.

Always present a less important person to the more important, but don't let the less important get onto your racket.

A gentleman should always raise his hat to a lady. When a gentleman is too poor to raise his hat he should get out of society and go on the road.

A gentleman should not offer to shake hands with a lady. If it must be done let the lady give the man the shake.

In the matter of dress, gentlemen may wear as much as they desire, and ladies as little. This is de rigueur.

It is not necessary to talk in the best society. A cold and haughty reserve is better form, and may be used as a screen to protect others from the dazzling glare of your ignorance.

Do not flatter. Compliments are so cheap they are vulgar. Tell the lady she is perfectly divine and let her go at that.

Never use slang. It's not. Society is dead down on it and don't you forget it.

Gentlemen will not spit on the carpet, as long as they can find a rug or towel to spit on, they should use it.

Never offer a person a chair from which you have just risen. Offer it while you are sitting on it, and you won't have to stand up the rest of the evening.

No gentleman will use a glass of profanity in the presence of any lady except his wife.

Gossip is the bane of society, and society is so constituted that it cannot exist without it. Always take a lone along with you, and the juicier it is the more popular you will be.

The Bald-Headed Bacillus.

Chicago News: A few days ago the News called attention to the discovery of the bacillus, which—according to an Italian physician—causes old age. Now Dr. Saymonne, a managing physician, comes to the front with another microbe which he calls the "bacillus crinivorus," or hair-eating bacillus, and which he alleges is the cause of alopecia or bald-headedness.

According to Dr. Saymonne the "crinivorus" is found only on the scalp of man—other hirsute parts of the body and the fur of animals being free from it. The bacilli invade the hair-follicles, and make the hairs very brittle, so that they break off at the skin. Then the roots themselves are attacked. If the microbes can be destroyed early in the disease the vitality of the hairs may be preserved, but after the follicles are invaded and their structures injured the baldness is incurable.

The following is Dr. Saymonne's remedy to prevent baldness: Ten parts of cod-liver oil, ten parts of the expressed juice of onions and five parts of mace or the yolk of an egg are thoroughly shaken together, and the mixture is to be applied to the scalp and well rubbed in once a week.

If the roots have not been destroyed the doctor asserts that this will certainly bring back the hair and as certainly kill the "crinivorus." As to the latter certainty, we do not doubt it; the smell of such a mixture should kill anything less calloused than a health inspector.

For chapped hands, roughness of the skin, pimples or blotches of any kind on the face or other parts of the body, apply Dutard's Specific. It works like magic and is warranted by druggists. Sold by R. S. Hale & Co., wholesale and retail druggists, Helena.

A Great Secret: To restore your appetite go to Crystal Restaurant, Grand street.

There was a terrible epidemic of dysentery and bloody flux in Pope county, Illinois, last summer. As many as five deaths occurred in one day. Messrs. Walter Brothers, of Watersburg, sold over 350 bottles of Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy during this epidemic, and say they never heard of its failing in any case when the directions were followed. It was the only medicine used that cured the worst cases. Many persons were cured by it after the doctors had given them up. Twenty-five and 50-cent bottles for sale by H. M. Parthen & Co.

Cure for Piles.

Itching piles are known by moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching after getting warm. This form, as well as blind, bleeding and protruding piles, yield at once to the application of Dr. Ross's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching and effecting a permanent cure. Fifty cents. Address: The Dr. Ross's Pile Remedy Company, Piqua, Ohio. Sold by R. S. Hale & Co.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap-John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world-wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as Rogers' Blood Purifier and Blood Maker, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing. For sale by all druggists. R. S. Hale & Co., wholesale and retail agents.

Best in mind that the Northern Pacific is the only line running through sleeping and dining cars to the Pacific coast.

OUR FAMILY PRESIDENT.

Back to the rise of the nation's sun. Back to the time when its life began. Back to the days of Washington.

Whom does its foe a rap. A public office was never a trust. But the present administration must esteem it a chance for getting "just" A sort of a family snap.

Twice in the autumn of eighty-eight. When the present strong transpire. Were asked to man the ship of state. The ship of royal pride.

And since that time, the present three Have ruled the land of the brave and free—Have been and been and been and been—And the rest of their folk, beside.

The brothers and cousins and sons of aunts. Have all been given a first-class chance. Their bank resources to advance. And feed at the public trough.

But in the autumn of ninety-two Will the voters say: "You won't quite do. With a family president we're through. From the public perch, come off!"
